Henare's Try

This task is about finding and correcting spelling mistakes.

The story below has some spelling mistakes. Read the story all the way through and draw a circle around all the mistakes you can find.
Write the correct spelling of each mistake in the space at the start of each line. If you cannot find a mistake, put a tick (✔) in the space. The first two lines have been done for you.

✔	Henare was a very large boy for nine years old so he was allowed	alloud to play for his school's best rugby team. Last
_____	Saturday he was very excitted because his team was playing
_____	in the final of the competition. He quickly ate his favourite
_____	breakfast of toast and peanut butter and ran off to join his _____	freinds at the sports ground. Everyone was there when he _____	arrived. Evrybody wanted to see which team would win. The _____	players ran out onto the feild and the game started. Both
_____	teams seemed evenly matched and no tries were scored in the _____	first half. After half time the centre through the ball to Henare.
_____	The next second he was off running straihgt down the middle _____	of the pitch. The try line was in sight when he felt himself
_____	grabed from behind. He was caught! What should he do?
_____	He pulled, and tugged, and broke free. He hoped around
_____	another tackler and charged forward as if fired from a canon
_____	and dived for the line. He slid across the wet grass and finally _____	stopped under the posts. A loud cheer went up. Henare looked _____	up and there was his Dad with the vidio camera.
_____	"Your a champion, son. That was an awesome try!"

Published on https://newzealandcurriculum.tahurangi.education.govt.nz