

Money Week and the ARBs - September 2019

Money Week and the ARBs - September 2019

Submitted by jonathan on Fri, 09/06/2019 - 14:42

Money Week 2019 is an annual awareness campaign run by the Commission for Financial Capability (CFFC). It involves resources, tools, activities, seminars, and events to build better financial capability for New Zealanders.

This year Money Week runs from 9th-15th September 2019, and the focus is conversations about money. In 2018 the focus was planning for financial resilience.

Money Week website

The Money Week website provides resources to start conversations about money, as well as other tools and resources for adults and young people.

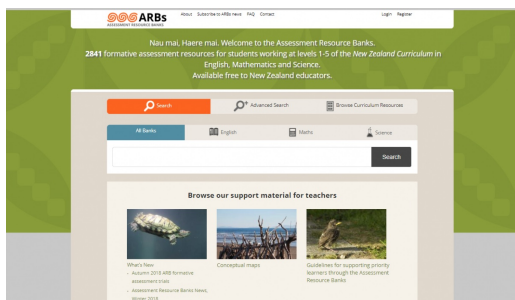

<https://moneyweek.org.nz/>

Assessment Resource Banks

The Assessment Resource Banks (ARBs) can be used to explore student understanding about a number of financial literacy ideas.

<https://arbs.nzcer.org.nz/>

Selection of ARBs

Many ARB resources look at counting money, spending, change, banking, saving, comparing costs, credit and debt, income, taxation, percentages, GST, and discounts. You can use these, or other, keywords to search for the resources you want and save them to your folders.

A selection of Number and Algebra ARBs that connect to financial literacy themes are shown below. These can be as starting points for conversations about particular financial capability themes.

Counting money

The right money * 4/5/12

Level 2
The right money
Counting money
Adding coins
A few coins
Different coins
The same total

Level 3
The same amount

Level 4
How many coins?

Banking and saving

Saving money * 4/5/12

Level 3
Saving money
Bank account

Level 4
Checking the bank account
Balancing the bank account
Bank balances
Savings account
II

Buying things and getting change

Working out change * 4/5/12

Level 2
Working out change
How much change?
Buying some things
Spending pocket money
Spending at the shop
Showing change
Change from $10

Level 3
At the canteen
Buying groceries
Buying books
Fruit and vegetables
Cans of fruit drink
Party Prizes

Level 4
Bus prices
Computer repairs
Buying some gear
Buying CDs and DVDs

Comparing prices

The price of flour * 4/5/12

Level 3
The price of flour

Level 4
Comparing prices

Level 5
Chocolate special
Tomato sauce
Printing costs
Discount MP3 Player

Percentages, GST and discounts

Buying bikes * 4/5/12

Level 4
Buying bikes

Level 5
With or without GST
Clothing sale
Find the percentage
Percentage changes
Buying surfing gear

Financial literacy and capability resources

There are a number of websites that have tools and resources to support teaching and learning about financial literacy and financial capability.

TKI

TKI hosts a range of resources about money conversations, financial literacy, and financial capability.

<http://nzcurriculum.tki.org.nz/Curriculum-resources/National-events-and-the-NZC/Money-Week>

Financial capability progressions

The financial capability progressions can provide a structure for exploring financial capabilities in three areas: managing money and income, setting goals, and managing risk.

<http://nzcurriculum.tki.org.nz/Curriculum-resources/Financial-capability/Financial-capability-progressions>

Sorted in Schools

In late 2018 the Commission for Financial Capability (CFFC) launched the Sorted in Schools website, which provides a number of resources to support the teaching and learning of financial capability for secondary students. These searchable resources are available in te reo Māori and English, and link to the themes and cross-curricular links of the financial capability progressions.

<https://sortedinschools.org.nz/>

Sorted

The Sorted website has a range of financial tools. Anybody can set up a profile and use the many tools and resources available in both te reo Māori and English.

<https://sorted.org.nz/>

The ARB team

@NZCERassessment

Published on Assessment Resource Banks (<https://arbs.nzcer.org.nz>)