

Rational number in the NZC 2025

Rational number in the NZC 2025

Submitted by jonathan on Fri, 06/26/2026 - 14:24

One of our assessment service team, Janine Simpson (Kaituki Ratonga Aromatawai | Team Lead Assessment Services) wrote a great article on the NZCER blog about rational number. It's a good read and relates a little to the recent work developing NZCER's Rational number assessment, a focussed assessment to target students uunderstanding of rational number. It also supports the renewed recognitin of the impaortnace of rational number as a key mathematical concept (and a key sub-strand of the NZC 2025).

We recommend having a read:

<https://www.nzcer.org.nz/news-and-blogs/why-does-learning-about-rational...>

Go Janine!

Published on Assessment Resource Banks (<https://arbs.nzcer.org.nz>)