

Ko Bakong

This task is about adding words to a text so that it makes sense.

Image source: Brian Dimarucot (Wikipedia)

The following piece of writing has some spaces where words are missing.

First, read the whole piece of writing through to get an idea of what it is about. Then fill each space with ONE word so that the whole piece of writing makes sense. You are able to change answers as you go.

When you have filled in all the spaces, re-read the text to check that the whole piece of writing makes sense.

Ko Bakong

In Angkor are the ruins of Ko Bakong, the former royal capital of Cambodia. A vast, thick jungle now grows around the place ¹ the city once stood. Today, thousands ² animals run about its crumbling ruins; monkeys, tigers, and other creatures ³ made the ruins their refuge. ⁴ the tangled vines and tall ⁵ of the jungle, the highest point may still be seen. And amongst the thick growth smothering the ⁶ one can with some difficulty ⁷ the remains of ancient buildings ⁸ the exquisite work of craftsmen ⁹ carved in stone.

Stories of ¹⁰ ago relate that this was ¹¹ a splendid city with magnificent ¹² towers, golden roof tiles, and wonderful golden window frames in the ¹³ palace. The many temples and ¹⁴ palace used to fly colourful ¹⁵ and pennants during celebrations, and many sculptures and carvings adorned the ¹⁶ and massive outer walls. Everywhere ¹⁷ is evidence of luxury and ¹⁸ wealth. All around there ¹⁹ signs of stunning beauty and grandeur. Now there is no one left who ²⁰ able to tell us what ²¹ to the once-powerful ²² of Ko Bakong. The many scholars who study ²³ civilisations have been unable to say ²⁴ became of the royal city.