

Smartphones

This task is about writing open and closed survey questions.

Smartphones seem to be an important part of life today. But how important are they? Design a survey of six questions that can be used to find out how important smartphones are to students your age. Show that you understand the idea of 'closed' and 'open' questions by writing three of each type of question.

Use the boxes below to write your questions.

Closed questions

Open questions
