Haiku

This task is about writing a Japanese form of poetry called haiku.

Haiku are short Japanese poems with a fixed pattern of three lines.

- The first and third lines have 5 syllables (not words).
- The second line has 7 syllables (not words).

When/ rain/ beats/ whip/like 5 And/ for/ests/ cry/ for/ mer/cy 7

Haiku are usually about natural things. Read this example:

	The/ rain/bow/ an/swers	5
a)	Using the previous Haiku as an	example, sort the lines into the correct order for a Haiku.
	Very determined to grow
	Pushing dirt aside
	A mushroom can be

b)	Write your own Haiku. You may want to write about a season or an animal in your Haiku. Remember: 1st line 5, 2nd line 7, 3rd line 5 syllables.
c)	Now edit and finish your Haiku.
