

There or their

This task is about using 'there' and 'their' correctly.

Josie has written a story but she needs help with using the words 'there' and 'their'.

Read Josie's story and choose 'there' or 'their' in the spaces Josie has left blank.

Four Warty Wizards

Once upon a time their/ there were four warty wizards, and for some weird reason, all of them had warts on there/ their noses. They even had warts on there/ their warts. Anyway, in the village there/ their was a mischievous witch. One day she said, "Hey you wizards, how many warts do you have altogether?"

Well, the wizards went into a tizz. So for the next week the wizards sat their/ there and rubbed there/ their heads and tried to think of an easy way to count how many warts their/ there were altogether.

At the end of the week they were still sitting at their/ there table trying to find an answer. I think they are probably still sitting there/ their!

Published on <https://newzealandcurriculum.tahurangi.education.govt.nz>