

Making comparisons II

This task is about identifying and explaining the use of personification in a poem.

In each of the following poems an object is being described as if it is an animal.

Next to each poem:

1. write the name of the object and the animal that are being compared, and
2. write down three ways each object is made to seem as if it is alive.

The first one has been done as an example.

a) Asparagus

Like a nest
Of snakes
Awakened, craning
Long-necked

Out of the Ground: to stand
With sharp
Scaly heads

Alert, tasting
The air,
Taking the sun,
Looking around.

i) What object and animal are being compared?

asparagus and snakes

ii) Write down three ways in which the object is made to seem as if it is alive.

- The asparagus fronds crane their necks
- They have sharp scaly heads
- They look around

b) Tractor

The tractor rests
In the shed,
Dead or asleep,

But with high Hind wheels Held so still

We know
It is only waiting,
Ready to leap -

Like a heavy
Brown
Grasshopper

i) What object and animal are being compared?

and

ii) Write down three ways in which the object is made to seem as if it is alive.

c) Safety pin

Closed, it sleeps
On its side
Quietly,
The silver
Image
Of some Small fish;

Opened, it snaps
Its tail out
Like a thin
Shrimp, and looks
At the sharp Point with a Surprised eye.

i) What object and animal are being compared?

and

ii) Write down three ways in which the object is made to seem as if it is alive.

d) Holden Commodore

In the early evening,
I see a big red lion
with its eyes shining yellow.

It prowls for ages
along the road
and only stops
to drink at Caltex.

I can hear it roar.

i) What object and animal are being compared?

and

ii) Write down three ways in which the object is made to seem as if it is alive.

e) What is the effect of showing how objects are like animals in poetry?

Published on <https://newzealandcurriculum.tahurangi.education.govt.nz>