

Writing sentences

This task is about writing sentences that show what people said.

Use the words in the speech bubbles to write sentences that show what each person said, and who said it. Remember to add speech marks and any other punctuation that is needed. Here is an example.

Rikki

What have you got there?

Manu

It's my new robot!

"What have you got there?" asked Rikki.
"It's my new robot!" exclaimed Manu.

a) Use the words in the speech bubbles to write sentences that show what each person said, and who said it. Remember to add speech marks and any other punctuation that is needed.

Celia

That looks fun!

Sami

You can have a turn in a minute.

b) Use the words in the speech bubbles to write sentences that show what each person said, and who said it. Remember to add speech marks and any other punctuation that is needed.

Sue

Those sausages smell good!

Jim

They are nearly ready.

c) Use the words in the speech bubbles to write sentences that show what each person said, and who said it. Remember to add speech marks and any other punctuation that is needed.

Chris

I've nearly finished my painting. Do you like it?

Paul

Yes I do. I like the way you've done the sun.