

Using a Table of Contents II

This task is about understanding how to use a table of contents.

Below is a Table of Contents from a book called "Antarctica". Use this to answer the questions below.

1	Introducing the Antarctic	1
	Antarctic Boundaries	2
	Characteristics of the Area	5
	Territorial Claims	17
2	The Snow and Ice	22
	Physical Properties of Ice	24
	Movement of the Antarctic Ice-Sheet	42
3	The Land	50
	Mountains	53
	Volcanoes	58
	The Land Beneath the Ice	62
4	The Climate and Weather	70
	Atmospheric Circulation	72
	Optical Phenomena	82
5	The Life of the Antarctic	100
	Conservation	102
	Land Life	108
	Ocean Life	116
6	Whaling and Sealing	123
	Types of Whales	125
	True Seals and Eared Seals	136
	The Slaughter in the Early Days	137
7	The Islands of the Antarctic and Sub-Antarctic	146
	Relationships Between Climate and Life	149
	Island Geography	154
8	Polar Transport	168
9	The Unveiling of the Antarctic	201
	Early Discoveries	202
	The Advent of Aircraft	249
	Appendix A - Further Reading	252
	Appendix B - Antarctic Treaty, 1959	256
	Appendix C - The Organisation of Antarctic Research	262
	Appendix D - Stations Operating in the Antarctic	267

- a) You could read about the importance of protecting the Antarctic environment by turning to pages ...
- (A) 5-11.
 - (B) 12-16.
 - (C) 82-85.
 - (D) 102-107.
 - (E) 137-145.
- b) The Snares, Bounty, and Antipodes Islands are located between New Zealand and the Antarctic. Under which chapter heading could you read most about the influences of climate on the plant and animal life of these islands?
-
- c) Where in this book could you find the titles of other books on the Antarctic?
-
- d) Where would you most probably find the names of the countries that have bases in the Antarctic?
- (A) On pages 17-21
 - (B) In Chapter 11
 - (C) On pages 207-214
 - (D) In Appendix B - Antarctic Treaty, 1959
 - (E) In Appendix D - Stations Operating in the Antarctic