

Gallipoli comments

This task is about interpreting the visual features of a written text.

Read the article, War - who wants to remember it? School Journal, Part 4, No. 2, 1997.

Examine the title "War - Who Wants to Remember it?"

a) i) What is unusual about the lettering of the title?

ii) Why have some words in the paragraph in the top left corner been made to stand out?

b) i) What visual symbol is repeated?

ii) Why has this symbol been used?

- c) i) Why did the designer use different lettering and angled layout for the children's comments?

- ii) Why has a map been used as a background?

- d) What issue does the creator of this text want the reader to think about?
