

Weather decisions

This task is about weather and clouds.

- a. One evening in April a gardener saw this weather forecast for his town on television.

He decided to go out and pick all the tomatoes left on his plants because ...

- there would be no more warm weather.
- there would probably be a frost.
- the plants had grown to full size.
- the tomatoes were as ripe as they would ever be.

b. Which type of cloud is most likely to produce rain?
