

Reptile defence

This task is about explaining how an adaptation helps protect two animals.

Both of these reptiles have a type of armour plating.

Thorny devil (Australia)

Explain how the spiky covering on the thorny devil helps protect the animal from being eaten.

Greek tortoise

Explain how the smooth, hard, shiny shell helps protect the Greek tortoise from being eaten,

Published on Assessment Resource Banks (<https://arbs.nzcer.org.nz>)